- This paper has good content, however it need some revisions as follows:

1. proof reading the entire manuscript so that correct use of English language can make the writing easy to understand.
2. rewrite to arrange concept/ideas so that the flow is logical and proper, especially the first and second sections.
3. rewrite abstract which should contain research problem/background, objective(s), method, result in this order.
4. remove wrong conception as in "While in health, they are applied to treat diseases such as epilepsy (Grewe et al., 2013)," how can SG treat disease?
